Term	Definition
Week 1: Introduction
Memento Mori	The idea of reflection on mortality. Literally: remembrance of death.
Thanatology	The study of death.

Iron Crutch Li	One of the Eight Immortals in the Taoist (Ancient Chinese) pantheon. He left his body for up to a week at a time in order to talk to the gods.
Taphophobia	The fear of being buried alive.
Brain Death	The complete loss of all brain function, both voluntary and involuntary.
	Used as a legal indicator of death in many jurisdictions.
Phenomenology	A focus on consciousness and objects of direct experience. We want to look at the lived experience of religious people, rather than approaching from a faith-based perspective.
Epoche	The suspension of judgement. We don't worry about the truth of a story;
	instead we look at what it means to the discourse community that tells/told it.
Cosmology	A religious culture's view of the universe.
Soteriology	The study of religious doctrines of salvation.
Discourse	A group of people who share a common discourse. They share a set of Community	basic values and assumptions which facilitates communication. In the past, discourse communities were a lot harder to form.
Week 2: Indigenous Religions
The Psychic Unity	The idea that all humans across all cultures and all time periods have
Of Humanity	essentially the same cognitive ability; any differences can be attributed to culture.
Numinous	The feeling of a spiritual presence. Defined by Rudolph Otto in The Idea of the Holy.
Tupilak	A totem thrown into the sea by the Inuit; it sends a vengeful spirit to kill
CI	the enemies of the shaman.
Shaman	A religious professional who interacts directly with the spirits.
Near-Death	A personal experience associated with death or impending death. Often Experience	cited as evidence of cosmological claims. A famous example is Even
